The state police written exam is chosen by a committee referred to as the POST. Each state POST either designs its own exam or selects an exam provided by an assessment company. Each department may also choose its own exam. The police written exam as well as the content and length of the questions vary across the county. They may depend on the size and location of the police department, and the test provider can be different. One of the common tests is the POST that is provided by the state-run organization for Peace Officer Standards & Training or POST.
